Buster Baldwin key to launch of Westminster Canterbury

Resident Al Kemper has a great memory. He has been wonderful about sharing the history surrounding the original fundraising efforts that launched Westminster Canterbury.

Albert S. Kemper III was asked to serve with other volunteers and lead the Advance Gifts portion of the capital fund drive that began in 1976. Al was Executive Vice President of United Virginia Bank-First National at the time.

News of the location for the 220-unit retirement community was announced by Louis R. Weissert, the first president of Westminster Canterbury of Lynchburg, in December of 1975. The Daily Advance reported that Robert B. Mountcastle, of Roanoke, was invited to serve on the board of directors.

Matching Gift Challenge pushes campaign forward

by Debbie Callahan, VP

When a donor approaches you about creating a gift challenge, you listen. It was posed as a thoughtful question: Would a gift challenge help the Mission 2020 Capital Campaign?

Resident Kathy Quale read one of the campaign reports printed in the Resident Monthly Newsletter in the early spring. In that particular article, I shared that the WC Foundation would like to raise $200,000 for the capital campaign by the end of September 2019.

“What if there were a gift challenge of $20,000 for the campaign?” Kathy asked dubiously.
Matching Gift Challenge pushes campaign forward

I smiled and replied, “That’s a wonderful idea! Why didn’t I think of that?”

Keeping the identity of the matching gift donor a secret, the challenge was announced. The June newsletter article read:

This is a great time to make your gift to Westminster Canterbury’s Mission 2020 Capital Campaign. Why? Because we have a $20,000 matching gift that will double your contribution dollar for dollar. But hurry…this match opportunity expires July 1!

Our goal is to raise enough money to finish our campaign with a total of $2.2 million. We’re almost there! Your gift will count toward this total and it will be doubled.

And it worked! Gifts were made to the campaign. Contributions were made by people who had not given previously and additional gifts were made by others who had already given.

It was such a success, that the match amount of $20,000 was met and surpassed. The grand total raised through this initiative was $60,600!

“I think I did the right thing and I’m proud of what we accomplished through the matching gift challenge,” Kathy said.

Kathy’s thoughtful contribution and the subsequent gifts by those who accepted this challenge took the Mission 2020 Campaign to a total of $2.25 million in July. Thanks to additional gifts, we have now raised over $2.35 million.

It’s still a great time to make a gift to the Mission 2020 Capital Campaign! Donors can support this important initiative by making a gift before the end of the year.

Have you thought about using all or part of your IRA Required Distribution to make a gift to charity? The amount you designate as a gift will reduce your income and potentially lower your taxes when the contribution is sent directly to a non-profit organization. A gift to the Westminster Canterbury capital campaign will qualify. It’s easy to do. Talk with your financial advisor.

Yes, the new Drinkard Healthcare Center is complete and occupied. Your gift now to our capital campaign will demonstrate how much you value Westminster Canterbury-Lynchburg. Regardless of the amount, your gift will move us forward to the grand finale of this campaign.

Thank you!

Wellness Center named for generous donors

CEO Sean Huyett was on hand to thank Wanda and Harold Templeton for their generous contributions to the Mission 2020 Capital Campaign. Harold noted he’s “very pleased with the way things are run” at WC and that he wanted to make a significant gift to the wellness area. Their campaign contributions provided the opportunity to name the wellness center in their honor.
Is it time to review your estate documents?

by Charlotte Fischer

Foundation Board Member Emeritus

You can make a difference! Think about it. There are so many ways to touch the life of another person and make a difference in their life. Sometimes it’s something you’ve quietly done that no one else is aware of. An act of kindness might be something so incidental that you don’t even realize what a difference you’ve made to another person. Other times you purposefully do something you believe will make a difference in the life of someone else or in many lives.

Residents Evelyn and Dan Taylor did the little everyday things, but they also have done some incredibly wonderful things that have made and will continue to make a difference in so many lives at Westminster Canterbury. During their lifetimes, they made a gift that resulted in the Employee Break Room on the 2nd floor of the original Drinkard building. They were part of the team that helped raise money for the 2002 Investing for Life campaign. They participated in the annuity program that we used to offer here. That program provided income during their lives and at their deaths, the remainder came to our Foundation. They were most generous to the Mission 2020 Capital Campaign and Evelyn continued to give after Dan’s death.

Evelyn died recently and now the Westminster Canterbury Fellowship Fund and the General Endowment will share in a bequest from Evelyn’s estate. The gift to the General Endowment will help with a variety needs on campus. Evelyn’s gift to the Fellowship Fund will help it continue to grow and help residents who, through no fault of their own, need financial assistance to enable them to live here for the rest of their lives as promised from the beginning.

While the Taylors really didn’t need prompting to remember Westminster Canterbury in their estate plans, there are times when others do. We have been named through another estate plan. This came about only because when the person was talking about what they wanted to do with their estate, it was suggested that they consider the Fellowship Fund. The individual said, “Yes, that is just what I want to do” and did. It was just an everyday conversation that will have a lasting impact on the lives of others right here in the years to come.

As you think about the organizations that have meaning for you, think about remembering those organizations in your own estate plan. No one is suggesting you not take care of your family and others that you need to consider. But also think about the difference a gift from you can make to the organizations you really care about. The gifts don’t have to be large, they just have to be what works for you and your situation. Many people choose to leave their bequests in percentages to both individuals and charities or other institutions.

The ideal time to consider changes in your estate plan is when you are reviewing your documents with your attorney or other estate advisors. Many people make changes when they first move to Westminster Canterbury, or when someone significant in their life dies. If you realize you want to make a change, anytime is good. Just do it and please remember to include the Westminster Canterbury of Lynchburg Foundation when you do.

The Foundation offers a variety of funds to consider; but, we are trying very hard to increase the Fellowship Fund to the point it will take care of all the fellowship needs each year. If you have questions or would like more information about creating your estate gift, please give Debbie Callahan a call at (434) 386-3507 or stop by to see her in the Development Office on the second floor.
M. M. Pettyjohn and Joseph A. Gilchrist, of Lynchburg, were to lead the building committee.

Area newspapers announced the co-chairmen of the fundraising effort as Clarence P. Kearfott, an attorney from Martinsville, and W. Jack Lester, president of the Lacy Corporation. The World-News of Roanoke reported that F. Wiley Hubbell and B. Purnell Eggleston would serve as chairmen of the advance gift committee members for that community.

Business and church leaders from all over Southwestern Virginia, from Staunton to Norton and from Bluefield to Lynchburg, worked to help reach the campaign goal of $2.5 million. The local goal for the Lynchburg division was $1 million.

“I lined up community leaders like Bernard “Buster” C. Baldwin, Jr. to serve on the committee,” Al recalls. “He was one of the top trust and estate lawyers in Lynchburg.” It was Buster who called on Mrs. Oscar (Lucille) Drinkard for her support of this new community envisioned by the Blue Ridge and Highlands Presbyteries and the Episcopal Diocese of Southwestern Virginia. Mrs. Drinkard’s initial gift was $100,000; but, after some consideration, she called Buster.

Al recalls that Lucille told Buster that she had a “dream and the good Lord wanted her to give the Westminster campaign half a million dollars. It was Buster who proposed it be used as a matching gift.”

The News and The Daily Advance, the morning and evening newspapers in town at that time, both reported the story. Buster Baldwin is credited with making the announcement during a meeting held at the Piedmont Club. The newspapers quoted him as saying: “On behalf of the Board of Directors of Westminster-Canterbury Inc., I am pleased to announce a challenge gift of $500,000 from an anonymous donor, made on the following condition – that it be matched by no more than five other gifts totaling $500,000. We feel this is a major step toward reaching the more than $1 million goal set for the Lynchburg area.”

Advance Gifts Chairman Kemper stated, “...we accept the challenge and we will meet it.”

“We are forever indebted to Buster for the existence of Westminster Canterbury,” Al said. “He came up with the idea of the matching gift and he had a whole lot to do with raising the $1 million. This is what got Westminster Canterbury off and running.”

The Baldwin family has further supported Westminster through service on the Foundation Board of Directors by Bernard C. Baldwin III and by supporting our recent capital fundraising effort. Today, the lobby of the new Drinkard Healthcare Center is named for Buster. This was made possible by a generous gift to the Mission 2020 Campaign by Buster's daughter, Mary Lyons Baldwin Scott.

The Foundation is very grateful for this gift and for the opportunity to recognize Buster Baldwin for his role in securing the future of Westminster Canterbury of Lynchburg.

FINISHING TOUCHES: Celebrating our heritage and our accomplishments, these commemorative plaques have been installed at the entrance of the Drinkard Healthcare Center.
A life of service well lived

Development Coordinator

Mildred Willson embodied the attributes associated with one who is philanthropic. She was charitable in nature and selfless in service to others.

Born in the rural area of Amelia County, Virginia, Mildred grew up during the Great Depression. Her father, Joseph, and his brother, Hoy, bought farmland together and raised their families in close proximity. Family ties were strong with cousins and siblings sharing in the joys and toils of farm life. World War II came along just as Mildred was finishing high school and while other young women were marrying soldier sweethearts and thinking about raising a family, she chose the path less taken in pursuit of higher education.

Mildred’s gutsy and pioneering spirit flourished in the halls of academia at the State Teachers College, later Longwood College. While pursuing her bachelor degree in education, Mildred joined two sororities in addition to the local chapters of the Westminster Fellowship and Association of Childhood Education, where she served as Vice President. Armed with a deeply rooted faith, Mildred embraced the mission of educating children and youth.

She spent the next 42 years devoted to shaping young minds and hearts as Director of Children’s Work/Director of Weekday Kindergarten. Her career took her to several Presbyterian churches throughout the south from Georgia to South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

There came a time when Mildred decided that her family needed her more than the children did. She retired to Richmond in 1988 to care for her mother, bringing her closer to her brother, Joe, and his family. For the next 12 years, Mildred served at Lakeside Presbyterian Church, where she flourished among friends and family.

At age 79, Mildred again felt a calling. Undaunted by change, she moved to Westminster Canterbury (WC) in Lynchburg. Her cousin Mary and husband, Jack Steele, had retired to WC where subsequently Jack passed away. Mildred felt compelled to be close to Mary, along with cousin Preston and his wife, Janie, who also live in Lynchburg.

Once again, Mildred put her stewardship skills to work by chairing the WC Chapel Committee, keeping it organized and running smoothly. She joined First Presbyterian Church just down the road from WC where she could continue her good works until traveling became difficult for her.

According to friends and WC residents Helen Petrill and Faye Wood, a typical day for Mildred consisted of exercise, breakfast and then visitation with residents in healthcare. She spent afternoons readying the Weissert chapel, organizing things in the sacristy or assisting funeral directors and WC’s chaplain with any memorial services on campus.

“There was times when we had no chaplain,” explained Helen. “Mildred would listen to family members…then advocate on their behalf as needed when making memorial service arrangements.”

Mildred was one of the first residents to contribute to the Mission 2020 Capital Campaign. She was very supportive of person-directed care and followed the campaign closely in her remaining years. While Mildred did not live to see the finished building, she prepared a legacy gift with the intention that a prayer or meditation space be included in the new healthcare center. This project is currently in the planning stages.

Mildred’s generous financial support of the WC Foundation throughout the years has benefited residents and employees alike. Her life of thoughtful stewardship and singular purpose never wavered. When asked for a description of Mildred, Faye replied, “Faith teaches us ‘not self but service to others’…that’s the story of Mildred’s life.”

Mildred Wilson – charitable in nature and selfless in service to others.
Charitable gifts are often contributed to the Westminster Canterbury-Lynchburg Foundation as tributes to people. Donors may want to honor or remember a family member or a person who has touched their lives in a significant manner.

This is the driving force behind the creation of the Margaret “Peggy” Slusher Memorial Nursing Education Fund. It has been established by Ken Slusher in memory of his wife, Peggy.

“Peggy worked as a nurse at Virginia Baptist Hospital here in Lynchburg for 41 years. She loved her job,” said Ken. “I’ve established this scholarship to help members of our healthcare team move up in their career, if that is their personal goal.”

The Slusher Memorial Nursing Fund (SMNF) will be available to Westminster Canterbury employees who wish to pursue a nursing career through an approved program. Employees eligible for this scholarship may be CNAs who want to become LPNs; LPNs who wish to be RNs; or RNs who may seek an MSN degree.

“We are very excited to add this loan assistance opportunity to our program,” said Kathy Bradley, Director of Human Resources. “This will provide an additional resource for us to support team members with educational expenses.”

This is the second fund established at WC designed to support members of our health services department. Resident Anny Bennett established the J. Lamar and Anny C. Bennett Scholarship in 2013 to support geriatric job training.

“We have a great pool of employees here,” Ken said. “They love what they do just like Peggy did. This fund will honor Peggy and will help others be the best they can be for our residents through additional education.”

You, too, can support this new fund in memory of Peggy Slusher by making a charitable gift to the WC Foundation. Write “Slusher Fund” in the memo line of your check made payable to the Westminster Canterbury-Lynchburg Foundation.

We look forward to sharing news about how this fund is working to help nursing employees in the months ahead.
Enriching, empowering and engaging residents, families and team members

This summer saw a whirlwind of activity as we met our deadlines to move into the new Drinkard Building. We were fortunate to have Liz Kail’s guidance as we went through a very intensive inspection process. By mid-July, we moved 80-plus residents into their new home. June McNamara and Karyn Rutoskey led the planning of the move-in and with the help of staff from all departments, residents and families, we moved everyone in one day and were done before 2:30 p.m.

We are grateful for all of the support from our friends. We are finishing up some final issues with the building and have seen a nice acclimation of our residents and team members into the new environments.

Now that the former Drinkard Building is vacant, we are working with consultants and our Board of Trustees to repurpose that space. When we know more details, we will share the news in the near future.

This fall we conclude the Mission 2020 Capital Campaign. Vice President Debbie Callahan, the WC Foundation and its team of volunteers have worked tirelessly over the past two and half years to raise $2.3 million toward the construction of the new Drinkard Healthcare Center and our wellness and dining renovations. I am thankful for their continued efforts to support the mission of Westminster Canterbury. We are very thankful to all who supported such a worthy cause.

New initiative to support team members

In early summer, WC was awarded a grant of $229,680 from the Center for Medicare Services (CMS) for development of a Peer Mentoring Program. This will enhance our person directed living/culture change initiative and will directly benefit the residents of the healthcare center. The grant comes from civil monetary penalty funds through fines of other nursing homes across the state.

The healthcare leadership team identified the need for a peer mentor training program for our certified nursing assistants. This initiative will provide another layer of training for new and existing nursing assistants to integrate and apply the principles of our person directed living (PDL) model of care.

Our model of service delivery strives to enrich, empower, and engage the lives of the residents, their families and employees by moving away from a traditional nursing home approach that is historically rigid and task driven. It embraces person directed practices, which focus on resident well-being and the use of coaching communication.

The goal of peer mentoring is to help acclimate the CNAs into the household and establish a strong partnership of peer support through development of interpersonal skills. We plan to share these best practices with other communities in the future.
Resident Jim Hoban provides local color for the Drinkard Center

You will have to visit the sitting area within the Piedmont neighborhood of the Drinkard Healthcare Center to fully appreciate the artwork donated by Jim Hoban. Jim oversaw the installation, expertly measured and leveled by Bill Heflin of Buildings Services, of this salon-style collection of his works that are familiar scenes and locations around Lynchburg.

All but one of the eight oils were painted on location with guidance from Jim’s teacher, Ron Boehmer.

The four works that frame the display were painted in springtime at the Old City Cemetery. The two on the left are views of the Chapel, while the two on the right are of the Pest House.

The three on the bottom row center are from the vantage point of Riveredge Park on the Amherst County side of the James River. They are, from left, a pier that supported the old railroad bridge; a cityscape with the First Baptist Church in the background; and tree trunks on the river bank.

In the top row center is the Speaker’s Belvedere in the Old City Cemetery. Jim said the autumnal scene with a green shed was inspired by a photograph taken by Boehmer. He began this piece at the Lynchburg Art Club and completed it with suggestions by another teacher, Rosalie Day White.

“Goldie” is the title of this large pastel, created by Jim Hoban, hanging on the wall opposite the collection noted in the images above. Goldie was a three-legged cat treasured by the Hobans. This artwork was the initial study for a piece that Jim contributed to the Lynchburg Humane Society.

Westminster Canterbury Lynchburg wouldn’t be the wonderful community it is without the special activities and gifts that are contributed each year. I had the honor and pleasure of sharing the past year’s accomplishments during our recent donor appreciation event. You can see the event photos on pages 11, 12 and 13.

Gifts made from October 2018 through September 31, 2019 have supported a variety of needs. Donors expressed their love for the arts through contributions to the Cultural and Fine Arts Fund. Educational opportunities for employees were supported by contributions to our scholarships and our loan assistance opportunities. The 2018 Fall Bazaar, organized and run by residents, raised over $4,700 for the Payne Family Employee Education Fund.

I am also pleased to share that a new fund has been established with a generous gift from resident Ken Slusher. You can read about the Peggy Slusher Memorial Fund on page 8.

There were gifts made to our Music Ministry, Nature Trail, Chaplain’s Discretionary Fund, Fellowship and General Endowments too. Turn to page 20 for a full breakdown of donations made to the various funds. The pie chart shows what fantastic donors we have!

Fellowship Fund
Our annual appeal for the Fellowship Endowment Fund is underway. We ask friends, families and residents to support this fund each year because Fellowship is our core mission. It is designed to provide financial assistance to residents, who through no fault of their own, need our help. We do it confidentially and help people pay their monthly service fees, medical bills and other unforeseen expenses that stress their budgets.

In the 39 years since Westminster Canterbury Lynchburg opened its doors, not a single resident has ever had to leave because they couldn’t pay their bill. More than $293,475 in financial support was distributed during the past year.

Your tax-deductible donation to the Fellowship Fund will change the life of someone on this campus...a friend or your neighbor next door. We hope you will be able to help again this year.

Mission 2020 Capital Campaign
We’ve been on a journey together over the past two years — a journey called Mission 2020: Our Home, Our Family, Our Future. We renovated our wellness center and dining venues, and built the new Drinkard Healthcare Center. Residents moved into their new home in July and have made the adjustment to their new surroundings. We continue to receive positive comments about the neighborhood design from residents and families.

The Westminster Canterbury Foundation helped support the cost of this campus-wide project by assuming the responsibility for the Mission 2020 fundraising campaign. There were many people involved: members of the Foundation Board of Directors and the WC Board of Trustees, individual residents and friends within the greater community.

We are truly blessed and thankful for the time and energy they spent meeting with possible donors, hosting lunches, dinners and making phone calls. The work of these volunteers have secured gifts from residents, family members, employees and businesses that now total $2,350,971.

Gena Davidson will join the Westminster Canterbury Foundation Board in January 2020.

Gena grew up in Columbus, GA, and earned an undergraduate degree in elementary education from Wesleyan College, in Macon. She later completed a master’s degree in education at Lynchburg College.

Gena is a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church and has served her church family in a variety of ways: Vestry, Eucharist minister and reader, Sunday school teacher and Altar Guild. She was also instrumental in establishing the St. John’s Day School as chair of the founding committee and first board of directors. As a member of St. John’s, Gena has volunteered at Westminster Canterbury in several capacities over the years.

In addition to her church, Gena has been an advocate and board member of the following community organizations: United Way of Central Virginia, American Red Cross, Junior League of Lynchburg and Historic Sandusky.

She currently volunteers with Lynchburg Daily Bread and the Rivermont Area Emergency Food Pantry.

Gena and her husband, Bill, are Azalea residents of Westminster and look forward to moving to campus in the next few years.

Blessed with fantastic donors!

Hang an angel on a Tribute Tree for the Fellowship Endowment Fund

Our Holiday Tribute Trees are a Westminster Canterbury tradition and a beautiful addition to our lobbies during this special season. You can help decorate the Tribute Trees with a paper angel.

This decoration may be used to honor special people or memorialize loved ones by making a donation to the Westminster Canterbury Foundation for the Fellowship Endowment Fund. Your donation to the Fellowship Fund will be used to help residents with the safety net of financial assistance when the need arises.

Gifts may be made by check or you can make your gift online. Visit: www.wclynchburg.org/giving and click on the Angel icon. Checks should be made payable to Westminster Canterbury Lynchburg Foundation and mailed to the same at 501 VES Road, Lynchburg, VA 24503. Please include the names of the individuals you wish to honor or remember with your gift.

Thank you for helping us decorate the Tribute Trees, a tradition of love.

Best wishes for this holiday season and the year to come.
